HULMEVILLE MAN SETS HOME AFIRE IN SUICIDE ATTEMPT

Bensalem Zoning Officers Stop Housing Construction

Hi! Remember Me!

Mrs. Mary Ancker, Lower Bucks County hospital administrator, welcomes back Ann Capriotti, of Glen Ashton Farms, Bensalem township, on her first birthday. Standing with the child is her grandfather Thomas Jaynes, of Langhorne, a Board member of the hospital. Mr. Jaynes' granddaughter was the 1000th baby born at the hospital and is celebrating her birthday along with her grandfather's today. (Courier and Times photo)

Residents Protest On Violation

Builders Of Two Homes Issued Letters By Board

Work on two houses being built at Woodbine and June roads, Bensalem Township, was stopped this morning after the builders and property owners were issued letters by the township zoning officers.

Residents of the area protested the construction of the two homes, claiming they were in violation of the zoning ordinance.

Township solicitor John Wood stated that he felt the project was a zoning violation and that Joseph Sloan had issued notices to those responsible.

Cesspool Permit

The land is owned by Miss Sarah Jane White who today acknowledged receipt of the letter. She said that although she hadn't seen the notice it had been delivered to the house and she understood the only problem was a lack of a permit to install a cesspool.

Her father, C. Burnley White, backed up her impression. He said "there definitely is no zoning violation." He pointed out that the builder, Philip Meyers, of Richboro, had obtained a building permit.

"How could he get a building permit if there was a zoning violation?" Mr. White asked.

He added that he thought as soon as the cesspool permit was obtained work would resume.

The residents claim that the R-2 zoning of area calls for minimum lot sizes of new homes of 20,000 square feet.

Mr. White said the two lots for the new homes being built were (Continued on Page 3, Col. 5)

L. Southampton Officer Resigns

Lower Southampton Chief of Police Edward Wunsch today announced the resignation of Patrolman Robert Murphy from the police department.

Murphy, who was appointed to the force five months ago, has tendered his resignation and plans to join the police department in Upper Southampton township.

Murphy's reason for resigning was that he was moving out of the township. Chief Wunsch commended Patrolman Murphy for his fine service.

Trevose Fire Carnival Opens

The Trevose Fire Company annual carnival will open tonight at 8 o'clock on the firehouse grounds, Street road, Bensalem township.

The carnival will be continued for two weekends and will be climax ed with a county-wide parade Saturday, July 28.

Housing ceremonies for two new fire engines will also be conducted following the parade.

Chairman of the carnival is Thomas Powell.

Trevose Squad to Get Wheelchair

The National Polio Foundation is scheduled to present a wheelchair to the Trevose Heights Rescue Squad Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Trevose Heights firehouse, on Elmwood avenue.

The presentation will be made by local representatives of the National Foundation.

Kaiser Awarded Panels Contract

Kaiser Metal Products, Inc., Bristol, has been awarded a contract to supply "curtain wall" panels for a two-story, 91,000 square foot office building for Fischer & Porter Co., Hatboro, manufacturers of complete process instrumentation, it was announced today by S. D. Hackley, vice president and general manager of KMP.

Sheet Panels
The steel "sandwich" panels, which will be finished on the exterior face with dark yellow porcelain enamel, are of a special Kaiser Metal Products design which gives a weather-tight seal at horizontal panel joints without the use of special moldings or covering strips. The interior face will be primed for finish painting at the site.

In addition to the complete panels for the new building, KMP will supply matching steel sheet panels for a veneer on Fischer & Porter's present office and factory building.

The "curtain wall" panels are approximately four feet square and one and three-quarter inches thick, with 1½ inch Fiberglass insulation. Porcelain enameled steel frames for stained glass windows, which are interchangeable with the building panels, will also be supplied by Kaiser.

This is the second large contract received by Kaiser Metal Products since it decided to go into the field of fabrication of building panels. The company is also supplying several thousand porcelain enameled steel panels for the exterior of the new Sheraton Hotel, Philadelphia, now under construction.

Police Chief Jones Suffers Heart Attack

Bristol Borough Police Chief Linford J. Jones was stricken with a heart attack early Wednesday morning and is now under care and observation at Lower Bucks County Hospital, it was learned today.

On vacation this week, Chief and Mrs. Jones had planned to leave Bristol Sunday to attend the Police Chiefs Association Convention in Pittsburgh.

Somehow we figure that someday Sam Snead is going to upset the applecart and win his fourth.

It's funny. A person can worry himself thin about practically everything but losing weight.

One reason a lot of people never attain wisdom is that they think they already have it.

Threatens Wife, Then Slashes Self

70 Area Firemen Fight Blaze Which Caused $8,000 Damage

A 55-year old Hulmeville man attempted to end his life twice yesterday in a matter of minutes.

Gottlieb Schultz, of Pennsylvania Avenue, Middletown township, was found bleeding profusely from both arms in a tool shed while firemen were battling an extensive fire in his home only a few feet away.

Schultz later told police he had spilled kerosene about his seven room, two-story frame home in an attempt to destroy the house and end his life.

When firemen arrived at the scene shortly after Schultz set fire to the house, he ran to a rear tool shed where he slashed both of his arms with a razor and tried to conceal his bleeding body hidden under a canvas tarpaulin.

In State Hospital

He was rushed to Lower Bucks County Hospital by the Bucks County Rescue Squad where he was treated and released in the custody of the constable. An emergency ambulance then transported him to Norristown State Hospital.

Mrs. Bertha Schultz, 50, wife of the confessed arsonist, told police that her husband had threatened to kill her repeated times. She said he had threatened her earlier in the day and she had gone to see about treatment for him.

When she returned at 4:45 p.m. she saw smoke coming from their home.

More than 70 firemen from Hulmeville, Parkland, Pennell and Langhorne fought the fire for two hours before it was extinguished. Assistant Chief William Keen, of Hulmeville Fire company estimated the damage to the house at $8,000.

Mrs. Schultz said she was forced to take her 12-year old daughter, Doris, and leave her with neighbors when her husband threatened her earlier in the afternoon.

Arguments Slated In Marine Trial

Defense Contends Discipline Marches Were Commonplace

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. UP — The defense and prosecution in the court martial of Marine S-Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon scheduled arguments today on the issue that may decide the outcome of the historic case.

The argument was a technical one but of vital importance to the defense strategy of New York attorney Emile Zola Berman. It concerned whether the defense should be allowed to attempt establishing that disciplinary marches into swamps and tidal waters were commonplace at the Parris Island Marine recruit training base.

Bristol Township Solicitor Gilbert Kraus said a letter to that effect was sent to the building firm yesterday.

Steel Talks Get To 'Brass Tacks'

By J. ROBERT SHUBERT
PITTSBURGH — UP — Steel industry and steelworker's representatives were locked in "brass tacks" negotiations today to end the 20-day walkout which has paralyzed the nation's steel production.

The industry was reported

Thursday to have scaled down its pre-strike five-year offer to a three-year package. USW President David J. McDonald rejected the offer as a "pittance."

McDonald spelled out his rejection in a loud-spoken session with U.S. Mediation Director Joseph F. Finnegan. His denunciation of the company offer was audible to newsmen.

Finnegan said, "As long as they are meeting there is hope."

The meeting between McDonald and Finnegan followed a bargaining session between union men

Coroner's Inquest Clears Disc Jockey

Miller Slated For Franklin School Staff

Robert Frazer, director of secondary education of the Delhaas schools, has been instructed to place Walter D. Miller, Regional superintendent of system, on the faculty of the Benjamin Franklin Junior high school next Fall.

The action was taken at an executive meeting of the Delhaas Joint School board Wednesday night.

This is in line with Mr. Miller's request for a transfer from the superintendent's role to the faculty.

Screen Applicants

In the meantime a three-man committee of the Bristol Township school board, a member of the Delhaas system, has completed screening of more than 60 applicants for the superintendent's job. All but four of the applicants have been eliminated.

The committee, will now approach about four other qualified men who have not applied for the position but who have built reputations as top school administrators.

When these interviews are completed in about two weeks, the committee will submit the names of at least four men to the Delhaas board. The full school board will then make the final choice.

Keeps Present Post

Mr. Miller will serve in his present post until a successor is picked.

Mr. Miller will probably assume the role as a history teacher at the Junior High school.

Wednesday night's decision reportedly came after he reportedly rejected a suggestion that he be retained on the administrative staff as an assistant to his present assistant, Henry Decker.

Good Evening!

Today it's the humidity.

Also the showers, which at the moment haven't arrived, but which the weatherman says are sure to fall.

Well, we see where our old friend Col. Paul Griffith, former state and former national commander of the American Legion, is big as life on Page 1 of the Philly papers this a.m.

There's a fellow who, with a few of the right breaks, could have been the governor of Pennsylvania. Time long since run out, however.

No toll increase needed now or in the future for the Pennsylvania Turnpike. Michael Baker's nationally known engineering firm decides after an extensive survey.

That should close the whole issue. The Baker firm conclusions support those of everybody else in the state excepting the Turnpike commission as composed before the governor cracked down and made sure some changes were made.

You wonder sometimes why public officials and most politicians insist on staying far behind the public itself in enlightened thinking.

County administration in Doylestown much that way. The only thing it will accomplish under the Welsh's so-called leadership will be what the Bucks county public insists be done. And it'll take a lot of insisting.

PGA tourney begins tomorrow at Boston and the most confident guy around is present champion Doug Ford.

Somehow we figure that someday Sam Snead is going to upset the applecart and win his fourth.

It's funny. A person can worry himself thin about practically everything but losing weight.

One reason a lot of people never attain wisdom is that they think they already have it.

Police Chief Jones Suffers Heart Attack

Bristol Borough Police Chief Linford J. Jones was stricken with a heart attack early Wednesday morning and is now under care and observation at Lower Bucks County Hospital, it was learned today.

On vacation this week, Chief and Mrs. Jones had planned to leave Bristol Sunday to attend the Police Chiefs Association Convention in Pittsburgh.

Stricken While Asleep

He was stricken at 2 a.m. Wednesday, while sleeping, awoke and complained of a pain in the vicinity of his heart. A physician was called and a cardiograph taken before the chief was moved to the hospital. Mrs. Jones reported that her husband is "much better" today.

The hospital described the chief's ailment as a "coronary artery disease." The chief suffered no complications today, hospital spokesman said, is in "satisfactory" condition and should be discharged in a few days.

Police said the wallet was recovered on Delmar Avenue later in the afternoon with the money missing.

Municipal Sewage Is Advocated

Authority Chairman Says Ground Saturation Point Is Limited

Pennsbury Heights-Falls Park homeowners will be faced with serious cesspool problems in the next few years, if municipal sewage is not installed soon, Township of Falls Authority Chairman John Collins said today.

Collins explained that tests in the area have shown that the ground saturation point for draining from cesspools is extremely limited because of the soil content. He said the same holds true for all parts of the township where cesspools are used or contemplated.

Collins said he agrees with Falls Twp. Supervisor Milton Berkes who told the Pennsbury Heights-Falls Park Civic Association on Wednesday that their protests against proposed sewer installation at this time was premature. "Much remains to be done before anything definite is decided," he said.

Best Interests

Collins explained that the survey now being conducted was being done for the best interests of all parts of the township who are without municipal sewage. "The Fallsington School is anxious to hook into a municipal system and we must consider other existing schools and planned one. The township is growing, and we are thinking of new developments, too. Without municipal sewage, cesspool problems will blossom (Continued on Page 3, Col. 8)

Warm, Humid Weekend Seen

High and low pressure systems put the squeeze on Lower Bucks today, promising a warm, humid weekend with showers and thunderstorms off and on throughout the next few days.

Weather Bureau forecasters said a high pressure ridge brought warm, moist air from the south into the state today and started both the temperature and humidity rising.

The bureau said the mercury should hold in the 80's this afternoon, tomorrow and probably again on Sunday, climbing perhaps a few degrees on successive days. This slight daily climb also was expected to hold true for the humidity level.

The showery and stormy weather came from a low pressure area west of Pennsylvania which moved progressively toward the state. Increasingly cloudy skies heralded the later arrival of the rain, which forecasters said would be widely scattered today, tomorrow and probably again on Sunday.

Store Owner's Wallet Stolen

Mrs. Herbert Rongley, of 72 East Bridge Street, Morrisville, an exchange store operator, yesterday reported her wallet containing $60 to $75 stolen from the counter in her business establishment.

Mrs. Rongley told Morrisville police she had laid the wallet alongside her pocketbook when two children were in the store. When the children left, Mrs. Rongley noticed the wallet missing.

Police said the wallet was recovered on Delmar Avenue later in the afternoon with the money missing.

In State Hospital

He was rushed to Lower Bucks County hospital by the Bucks County Emergency Squad where he was treated and released in the custody of the constable. An emergency ambulance then transported him to Norristown State Hospital.

Mrs. Bertha Schultz, 50, wife of the confessed arsonist, told police that her husband had threatened to kill her repeated times. She said he had threatened her earlier in the day and she had gone to see about treatment for him.

When she returned at 4:45 p.m. she saw smoke coming from their home.

More than 70 firemen from Hulmeville, Parkland, Fennel and Langhorne fought the fire for two hours before it was extinguished. Assistant Chief William Keen, of Hulmeville Fire Company estimated the damage to the house at $8,000.

Mrs. Schultz said she was forced to take her 12-year old daughter, Doris, and leave her with neighbors when her husband threatened her earlier in the afternoon.

Marine Trial Judge Allows Evidence On Discipline Marches

Alert Stops Bucks Traffic Ten Minutes

Traffic was halted ten minutes this afternoon and pedestrians sent to shelter throughout Pennsylvania in today's nation-wide Civil Defense exercise.

In Lower Bucks County, local Civil Defense units, police, fire companies and ambulance squads participated in exercises during the alert.

Tullytown residents heard the Yellow Alert at 11:05 this morning, a three-minute steady blast, followed by a sound truck tour announcing that the drill was coming.

The Red Alert, meaning "take cover," was sounded at 1:55 this afternoon, the white "all clear" signal ten minutes later throughout the state. Only in the Pennsylvania Turnpike was the drill not observed.

Radiation Teams

Bristol Township OK's Fixing Of Curbs

Miller Slated For Franklin School Staff

Robert Frazer, director of secondary education of the Delhaas schools, has been instructed to place Walter D. Miller, Regional superintendent of system, on the faculty of the Benjamin Franklin Junior high school next Fall.

The action was taken at an executive meeting of the Delhaas Joint School board Wednesday night.

This is in line with Mr. Miller's request for a transfer from the superintendent's role to the faculty.

Screen Applicants

In the meantime a three-man committee of the Bristol Township school board, a member of the Delhaas system, has completed screening of more than 60 applicants for the superintendent's job. All but four of the applicants have been eliminated.

The committee, will now approach about four other qualified men who have not applied for the position but who have built reputations as top school administrators.

When these interviews are completed in about two weeks, the committee will submit the names of at least four men to the Delhaas board. The full school board will then make the final choice.

Keeps Present Post

Mr. Miller will serve in his present post until a successor is picked.

Mr. Miller will probably assume the role as a history teacher at the Junior High school.

Wednesday night's decision reportedly came after he reportedly rejected a suggestion that he be retained on the administrative staff as an assistant to his present assistant, Henry Decker.

McKeon

Defense Scores Point

Klein's ruling was considered a victory for the defense which has argued throughout the court martial that long night marches were customary at Parris Island—part of the program it takes to turn a soft civilian into a Marine toughened for battle.

Klein ruled that such evidence must be confined to practices "under the same and similar circumstances" as those that prevailed when McKeon led 74 members of a recruit platoon into Ribbon Creek to "teach them discipline."

Six of the recruits drowned, and national attention has been focused on this resultant court martial as it has on no other since the famed trial of Billy Mitchell.

Klein's ruling came in the absence of the seven-officer court, all of them veterans of Marine combat. The court had been excused while the defense and prosecution argued the question of the materiality of testimony about such training methods as marches which are not listed in the training manual.

Says Methods Normal

Defense Attorney Emile Zola Berman has contended that the proud combat history and tradition of the Marine Corps are founded in vigorous and unscheduled training methods such as night marches into the mud and waters of the "boondocks."

The ruling had the potentiality of opening a flood gate on testimony which has been volunteered by ex-Marines throughout the country in response to an appeal by Berman.

Many of the telephone calls and telegrams have been from men who claimed they had been marched into water as Marine recruits at this famous training depot.

The witness who testified about McKeon's ability today was Sgt. Edward A. Huff, senior drill instructor of McKeon's platoon and his immediate superior.

Veteran Marine Instructor

The witness is a veteran of twelve and one-half years in the Marine Corps and has taken five platoons through recruit training here.

"Sgt. McKeon to me is an outstanding drill instructor," Huff replied in answer to a question by man.

Seeing Levittown

BY LYDIA BOGAN

A CRAZY MIXED-UP STREET: Three years ago, about 50 enthusiastic families moved into their new Rancher homes on Evertown lane in Levittown. And most of them have been confused ever since.

It all started when they saw their street sign. It read Evertown Lane, North Park. The routine rule used throughout the community apparently did not apply. Here was an "E" street in an "N" section. Yet it's located just off Elderberry Drive in the Elderberry Pond section.

Homeowners soon found they had few visitors. Friends looking for an Evertown house would often lose themselves in the North Park section of "N" streets. So despite the street sign, residents began to say "We're in the Elderberry section." This confused the visitors even more, but the chances of finding the street were better.

Housewives soon found sectional solicitors for community projects would do one of two things. They'd either skip the street completely thinking it was somebody else's area, or they'd double up and hit the same street twice.

The women didn't know what sectional club to join—the North Park or Elderberry Women's Club. In one of the Mrs. Levittown contests, one housewife entered as Miss Elderberry while another found herself in the North Park preliminary contest.

There are conflicting stories as to why the building firm named the street as it did. Some say it's because an Elderberry school site had been planned there. When the school plan went defunct, the builder put in houses and gave it an "E" street. But since the houses are the same as, and were built when North Park was, it is "mapped" and recorded in the North Park section.

Whoever owns it will have to pay to have it cleaned out, Kraus said. "If the township owns the ditch, it will fulfill its responsibility of cleaning it," he said.

Two Children Hurt In Crash

Two children suffered minor injuries yesterday when a car operated by their father collided with another vehicle at Olds boulevard and U.S. Route 1.

The children, Joanne Cann, 14, and her brother, Edward, 18 months, were taken to Lower Bucks County hospital where they were treated and released.

Falls township Patrolmen Charles Beck and William Moyer said the accident occurred when a vehicle operated by Edna Gundy, of Terry's Trailer Park, Bristol RD 3, collided with a car driven by Charles Cann, of 558 Trenton road, Fairless Hills.

A passerby transported the injured to the hospital.

Residents of the area protested the construction of the two homes, claiming they were in violation of the zoning ordinance.

Township solicitor John Wood stated that he felt the project was a zoning violation and that Joseph Sloan had issued notices to those responsible.

The land is owned by Miss Sarah Jane White who today acknowledged receipt of the letter. She said that although she hadn't seen the notice it had been delivered to the house and she understood the only problem was a lack of a permit to install a cesspool.

Her father, C. Burnley White, backed up her impression. He said "there definitely is no zoning violation." He pointed out that the builder, Philip Meyers, of Richboro, had obtained a building permit.

$5000 Bail Is Set In Building Case

Edward Wuenche, 31, of 534 him at Mill Creek road and Orangewood drive, Levittown.

Under questioning by his attorney John Fullam, of Bristol, Bozzo told the court he had given Wuenche $15,000 in six payments over a period of 45 days and then learned that he was not paying the sub-contractors for their work.

Bozzo said the buildings were about three-quarters finished and that he had received estimates as high as $8000 to complete the job. He also told the court that outstanding debts of Wuenche on the building project amounted to $8800.

Wuenche was detained in the Bristol Borough jail awaiting the outcome of his attorney's petitioning the Bucks County Court to reduce the bail. William Carlin, of Bristol, defense counsel, said he would petition the court today.

Filed Charges

The charges of fraudulent conversion and obtaining money under false pretense were brought by James Bozzo, of 58 Blue Ridge drive, Blue Ridge, Levittown, who contracted with Wuenche on May 5 to build five stores for

A Maple Shade, N. J., motorist was arrested early this morning and charged with drunk driving after she narrowly missed striking a police car while it was on patrol.

Officers Harry Smith and Henry Kleckner said they took Mrs. Grace Labree, 48, to the Lower Bucks County hospital where she was pronounced under the influence of intoxicants.

Mrs. Labree was detained in the Bristol Borough jail until she could be given a hearing at 8 p.m. today before Justice of the Peace Rene Tritschler.

He was to receive the $6000 balance upon completion of the job.

Ten sub-contractors attended the hearing and five produced checks which were returned for insufficient funds totaling close to $1500.

The case will now be turned over to the next term of the Bucks County Grand Jury.

Directing the warden in the Shopping Center were Peter A. Santoro, president of Borough Council. Other warden leaders are: Levittown, Philip Brusser; old Tullytown, Clinton Michaels; at the fire station, Charles Green; at the school, Mrs. Parker Latham. The borough police and fire departments worked with the wardens in the drill.

The voting area covers Vernon Hills, and part of Fairless Hills to Pennsylvania Avenue.

In other business, the group adopted by-laws that provide for a board of directors to be made up of all committeemen and women in the township. At present there are 14 representatives, with the creation of two new districts, the total will be 18.

Michael Dorak, club chairman, reported on a recent meeting with the County Commissioners on the re-assessment of the township.

Mr. Weber was 4 years old when he died. He had retired from his business, The David Weber company, a corrugated container manufacturing firm at 2500 Richmond Street, Philadelphia.

The total estate was estimated for probate purposes, to be at $100,000 and upward.

They say they are making a concession when they offer a three-year contract instead of a five-year contract," Arthur Goldberg, USW counsel, reported to the mediators.

"In the 19-year history of this union, it has never signed a contract longer than two years, and that with a reopening clause. They call that a concession?" he said.

McDonald denied the companies have made a new formal offer. He said "as far as I know" the firms are still standing on their five-year no-strike proposal made June 13.

The companies also denied the report but waited until this morning to do it.

The steelworkers will be admitted upon presenting their union membership cards.

Striking steelworkers may swim and attend the movies free during the current steel strike.

Melvin J. Fox, president of Fox Enterprises, extended the invitation, effective Mondays through Thursdays, at his Olympia Lakes swimming resort, Route 130, near Beverly, N.J., and at the Roosevelt Drive-In Theatre, U.S. Route 1, near Langhorne.

The steelworkers will be admitted upon presenting their union membership cards.

35 Are Nabbed In Speed Trap

Thirty-five motorists were nabbed in a speed trap conducted on Route 13 in Andalusia this morning when Bensalem township police conducted another drive on speeding motorists.

Chief William Riempp said persons were clocked in excess of 60 miles per hour in the 35-mile-an-hour speed zone.

Each of the offenders will receive a summons calling for a fine of $10 and $5 costs, Chief Riempp said.

The meeting was scheduled to be held in the Municipal Building with the principals, Chief Stewart and the Safety Committee attending.

The hearing was to be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock to air the charges and counter-charges of Patrolman Henry R. Scrocca and Sgt. Harry Bauer, of the Bristol township police department.
